Castro Seizes
Six AmericansSet New Anti-U.S.
Decrees

By Robert Berrellez
HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's government announced today it is holding six Americans accused of sailing to Cuba Jan. 7 to join counter-revolutionary forces here.

The announcement said all six were seized in Havana the day after they made a pact in Florida with a Castro foe, former Sen. Rolando Masferrer, to join other dissidents trying to overthrow Castro's regime.

Several Americans were executed by Castro firing squads last year after they were captured with "invasion" groups in Cuba.

The announcement identified the six as George R. Beck, 24, Norton, Mass.; Tommy L. Baker, 28, Dothan, Ala.; Donald Joe Green, 28, Clover, S.C.; James E. Beane, 34, Cedar Falls, N.C.; Alfred Eugene Gibson, Durham, N.C.; and Leonard Louis Schmidt, 21, Chicago.

The account said the six sailed from Marathon Key, Fla., with a refueling stop at Key West Jan. 6 after undergoing training at Masferrer's anti-Castro training camp in Florida.

Castro's Cabinet needed the United States with a series of new decrees.

In a session lasting until after midnight, the cabinet:

1. Ordered all Cubans and foreigners employed on the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo and living outside the base to get special work permits from the Cuban government.
2. Ordered all other persons entering the base—meaning Cubans trading with it—to get special permits.
3. Ordered drastic changes in the Spanish-American War Monument in Havana.
4. Ordered dissolution of the Cuban-American Cultural Institute, charging it has been converted into a propaganda outlet for the State Department.

Nearly 4,000 Cuban nationals work at the base.

The new law indicated that one aim of the regime was to get its hands on all dollars paid by the base to Cubans. It said that applications for permits to work on the base must be accompanied by a declaration of income.

The eagle atop the Spanish-American War Monument was ordered replaced by a dove of peace, the decree saying that the eagle was a "symbol of aggression, vassalage and exploitation."

Military firing squads executed three members of the Cuban Electrical Union Wednesday as Castro pressed his purge of opposition in the ranks of labor. The three men shot in the dry grassy moat of ancient La Cabana fortress were accused of sabotaging electrical equipment last November, when the capital was partially blacked out by bomb blasts.

By RELMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The atmosphere in Washington today is like that breathless moment in a theater when the curtain begins to rise on a great new drama.

People do not know exactly what to expect, but they expect something, something new and very different. During his presidential campaign, John F. Kennedy promised to "get things moving." Whether the movement will be forward, sideways or a roller coaster of ups and downs, remains to be seen.

Nevertheless, a sense of excitement, of some kind of moving, already thrums in the capital.

It is quite unlike the atmosphere in January, 1953, on the eve of Dwight D. Eisenhower's inauguration.

Dooley, Young Doctor
Who Battled Disease
In Laos Jungle, Dies

By RAY KOHN
NEW YORK (AP) — Thomas Dooley, lion-hearted young doctor who battled disease in the Laos jungle even when he himself became ravaged by crippling cancer, died in his sleep Wednesday night at Memorial Hospital.

Death came just one day after his 34th birthday.

Reporter Says
He Killed Man
In Fear For Life

HERMANN, Mo. (AP) — Crime reporter Theodore C. Link testified in his murder trial Wednesday night that he killed a farm hand because he feared for his own life and that of his son. The prosecution unexpectedly waived cross-examination of the defendant.

Link, 35-year-old St. Louis Post-Dispatch reporter, is on trial for first degree murder in the slaying of Clarence W. Calvin, 35, handyman and once a part-time employee at Link's summer home near St. Albans, Mo. The killing took place July 11 near the burned out ruins of the farm house.

Link testified after a parade of defense witnesses told the jury the victim had a reputation of violence and was thought to be dangerous.

After the prosecution waived cross-examination of Link, it indicated it would call one or two rebuttal witnesses today. There was speculation that one of them might be the only eye-witness to the shooting, Link's son, 12-year-old Theodore Jr.

On the stand, Link described in detail the firing of two shotgun blasts and three .38 caliber revolver shots, all of which hit the victim.

He said Link, armed with a knife and a three-pronged hoe, attacked him after he accused Calvin of setting fire to the home. The reporter said Calvin kept coming at him through two shotgun blasts, and didn't fall to the ground until he hit the third time by a revolver bullet.

Link said he had been "apprehensive and alarmed" over reports that Calvin had been threatening to shoot him.

Defense counsel Henry Morris asked the reporter, "Ted, why did you shoot Clarence Calvin?"

Link answered: "I was in fear of my life. I was in fear that he would shoot me, cut me or murder me and then my boy."

ASK LUMUMBA PROTECTION
ELIZABETHVILLE, The Congo (AP) — The U.N. command today said Patrice Lumumba's transfer to a Katanga jail was an internal Congo matter, but it appealed to local authorities to place the deposed premier under Red Cross protection.

Lumumba had been reported beaten up when he was taken off a plane at Elizabethville airport.

noting Kennedy's razor-thin margin of victory, are chagrined but by no means downhearted. Some of them, while taking a wait-and-see position, grudgingly concede that Kennedy seems to be off to a good start.

The "transfer of power" period seems to have gone off unusually well.

In 1952, the transition between Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman was not a happy one.

Traditionally, an incoming president enjoys a honeymoon with Congress, a period when the legislators are disposed to be as generous with him as possible. Sooner or later, of course, it ends.

Eight years ago at this time, the Washington wisecracker was, "When does the honeymoon begin?"

Kennedy's nomination for his Cabinet and other top officers have had smooth sailing so far.

But in 1953, one of Eisenhower's key nominations—Charles E. Wilson—to be secretary of defense—was heading for a collision with the Senate Armed Forces Committee before an agreement was reached. It pivoted on the question of Wilson's stock holdings in General Motors and whether he would dispose of them.

Kennedy has some advantages that Eisenhower did not enjoy. He has had 14 years in Congress and an even longer acquaintance with politics as such. Eisenhower, the soldier-turned-statesman, had none.

Eisenhower had a shooting war on his hands, with Americans dying in Korea. Kennedy confronts critical situations in Cuba and Laos, but not outright war.

In 1953, Americans assumed that the U.S. was the strongest military power in the world. Four years were to elapse before the first Sputnik went into orbit. Today that assumption is open to challenge. So Kennedy probably can demand and get far greater sacrifices from the American people than would have been possible for Eisenhower.

Eight years ago, this correspondent wrote:

"The mood on Capitol Hill was like the weather—dark, rainy and foreboding. It contrasted banefully with the sunshine and high spirits of Inauguration Day."

Today, the prevailing feeling is that bright new horizons are about to open.

President Has Mixed Emotions
On Becoming Private Citizen

By SAUL PETT
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two weeks ago President Eisenhower was visited in the White House by his old army friend, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, now a corporate executive.

"Brad," the President of the United States asked, "how do you like your job on the outside?"

The word "outside" was given a special kind of emphasis, a yearning, an envy, a vicarious relish, the way a man in jail a long time asks about the world beyond the walls.

He said, however, that Philadelphia fire officials reported there still was a concentration of the chemical in the areas of two piers here.

Winter Makes

Return Visit To

Illinois Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter opened a return engagement across Illinois today, blanketing most of the state with snow, chilly temperatures and slippery highways.

Snowfall generally was light but ranged up to 2 inches at Peoria. Combined with below freezing temperatures, the accumulation slicked stretches of highways in all but the extreme southern and northern fringes of the state.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 15 at Quincy to 29 at Belleville. Other lows included 18 at Moline and 19 at Peoria.

The snow was expected to end in most sections by tonight, but the Weather Bureau indicated the mercury will fall to around 15 in the north by Friday morning and range as low as 20 in the south.

Highs Wednesday extended upward from 31 at Rockford to 48 at Belleville.

ACCIDENT KILLS 3 YOUTHS

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP) — Three teen-agers were killed early today when their car left the road, overturned and burst into flames.

Police identified the victims as John Havell, 17, his brother, James, 13, of Kenosha, and Walter Selliff, 19, of Zion, Ill.

The accident happened on Lake Shore Drive just north of the Illinois-Wisconsin border.

Leopold, who spent 33 years in prison for the 1924 "arrit slayings" of young Bobby Franks, had requested his parole period be shortened from five to three years. He is not due to end his parole until March 1963.

The board said Mrs. Gertrude Garcia de Quevedo is a "very reputable person of good character" and there would be no objection.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Pardon and Parole Board today denied the petition of Nathan Leopold to be discharged from his parole.

At the same time, the board said it has no objection to Leopold's proposed marriage to a widow in San Juan, Puerto Rico, where Leopold is serving his parole period.

Leopold, who spent 33 years in prison for the 1924 "arrit slayings" of young Bobby Franks, had requested his parole period be shortened from five to three years. He is not due to end his parole until March 1963.

TRUCK DRIVER KILLED

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP) — A 41-year-old Lakeland, Fla., truck driver was killed today when his tractor-trailer ran off State Rt. 37 about 6 miles south of Mount Vernon.

He was Marvin L. Butler, driver for J. & M. Enterprises Co., of Lakeland. Authorities said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

The rescue squad of the Jefferson County rural fire department worked more than one hour to remove Butler's decapitated body from the cab of the truck. The truck was northbound with a load of feed.

Ike, Kennedy
Discuss U.S.
Top ProblemsExpects Top Defense
Men To Comply With Private Holdings Rule

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D. Ga., said today he expects all 10 of the top civilian defense team designated by President-elect John F. Kennedy to comply with "a very harsh rule" on private holdings.

The rule will require Robert S. McNamara, named to be secretary of defense, and nine Pentagon subordinates to sell all their stock in companies doing any direct defense business.

McNamara testified he would do anything the Senate Armed Services Committee says must be done to qualify for approval. Russell heads the committee.

After two days of public hearings and more than two hours of closed-door discussion, the committee decided Wednesday to apply the same "harsh rule" to defense appointees in the new Democratic administration that was used for Republican defense officials in 1953.

McNamara, who was president of the Ford Motor Co., told senators he would establish a special trust for his stock holdings. He would not control it or even know about its operations while in government service, he said, to avoid any hint of conflict of interest.

McNamara said the trust—resulting from selling his Ford stock worth more than $14 million—probably would invest in the same corporations with defense contracts.

But Russell said this would not do. He said McNamara's trust must not buy any stocks which he himself could not buy as defense chief, even though McNamara knew nothing about what the trust was doing. He required McNamara and the others to file written statements to this effect to gain final committee approval.

The committee action was a victory for Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D. Va., who first pointed out that the McNamara trust could violate an 1873 law prohibiting any government official or employee from receiving benefits from a concern doing government business.

Given conditional approval along with McNamara were these nominees:

Roswell L. Gilpatric, deputy secretary of defense; Elvin J. Stahr, secretary of the Army; John B. Connally, secretary of the Navy; Eugene M. Zuckert, secretary of the Air Force; Paul H. Nitze, assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs; Charles J. Hitch, assistant secretary of defense (comptroller); Cyrus R. Vance, general counsel for Department of Defense; Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense (public affairs); Thomas D. Morris, assistant secretary of defense (supply and logistics).

The same one-minute ceremony was performed in turn for the other new cardinals: Jose Humberto Quintero, archbishop of Caracas and Venezuela's first cardinal; Luis Concha Cordoba, archbishop of Bogota, Colombia, and Archbishop Giuseppe Ferretto, an Italian member of the Vatican Curia who is an expert on problems of the church in Latin America.

The same red hat, or galero, was used for all four cardinals. Later in the day, the new cardinals were to deliver individual messages to each of the four prelates. The red-tasseled galero normally is never worn, but hangs in the cardinal's church and at his death is placed on his coffin while he lies in state.

PREDICT MORE HOG PRODUCTION
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Foreign Cultural Service reports that world hog production is expected to rise about 2 per cent this year, with the bulk of the increase to come in Europe.

The service said Europe's prospective increased production will tend to reduce U.S. exports of lard and pork variety meats to that area.

Seek Man Who Killed Student,
Shot Professor

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — An intensive hunt was pressed today for a stocky gunman with bushy hair who killed a brilliant University of California graduate student and wounded an English professor late Wednesday.

Fatally wounded by a saved-off shot in the back was Stephen Mann Thomas, 29, member of a pioneer ranching family at Ukiah, Calif.

He was a teaching assistant to Prof. Thomas F. Parkinson, 40, who was shot in the face as he arose from his desk in his quiet office on the second floor of Dwinelle Hall.

Parkinson and Thomas had been in conference after classes. The younger man's back was to the open door when the hatless gunman entered and, without warning, fired twice with the double-barreled weapon.

Birdshot from the second blast didn't hit Parkinson full in the face. But it ripped away part of his jaw and blasted out a window behind (Continued On Page Nine)

St. Louis Priest,
Three Others
Made Cardinals

By FRANK BRUTTO
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today conferred the cardinal's red hat on Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter of St. Louis, Mo., and three other new prelates of the Roman Catholic Church.

The public consistory in St. Peter's Basilica, high point of four days of ceremony that swelled the College of Cardinals to 85 members, was attended by 29 prelates, archbishops and bishops, and about 10,000 spectators.

Cardinal Ritter was the first to get his hat. As he knelt before the papal throne and two attendants held the broad-brimmed hat—or galero—over his head, Pope John intoned:

"For the praise of almighty God and the honor of the holy apostolic see, receive the red hat, the special badge of a cardinal's rank. By this you are to understand that you must show yourself fearless, even to the shedding of blood, in making our holy faith respected, in security peace of Christian people, and by promoting the welfare of the Roman church. In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

The same red hat, or galero, was used for all four cardinals. Later in the day, the new cardinals were to deliver individual messages to each of the four prelates. The red-tasseled galero normally is never worn, but hangs in the cardinal's church and at his death is placed on his coffin while he lies in state.

Johnson Has Biggest Reception Of Career

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson had the biggest reception of his political career Wednesday night—and he shook hands in double-time to keep up with it.

Thousands jammed the street outside and the corridors of the Statler-Hilton Hotel in a teeming crush to get to a big Texas wing-ding—the biggest thing so far in preinaugural partying.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn and the Texas State Society of Washington invited 6,000 guests at $5 apiece to the affair.

President-elect John F. Kennedy got the party off to a good start with a 12-minute stunt in the receiving line.

In the lineup were incoming Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, ex-President

Harry Truman, his wife, Bess, and daughter, Margaret Truman Daniel.

Rusk was summarily ordered to move along by a policeman on receiving line duty who didn't recognize him. He got a shove as well, but took it all with a quiet smile.

Johnson shook hands for almost 2 1/2 hours, perspiring but game and smiling to the end.

The party spread over the first floor and featured 16 bars and 9 buffet tables serving Texas roast beef sandwiches.

"It's a crime," one woman said as she watched Johnson using a hand-over-hand technique to speed up the line of hand-shakers.

Toward the end Johnson propelled the line forward in double time, using both hands and virtually pulling people past him. No one seemed to mind in the friend-atmosphere.

Confer
For Over
Two Hours

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and President-elect John F. Kennedy canvassed the nation's major problems in a White House conference today lasting more than two hours.

When he came out of the conference, Kennedy told reporters that he and three of his top appointees had had "the opportunity to get the thinking of the President and the responsible officers of the government on some of the major problems facing the United States."

Kennedy, bronzed and smiling, was asked how he feels with his inauguration as president scheduled Friday.

"Very good," he replied. A reporter asked if he was excited.

"Interested," Kennedy replied with a broad grin.

A joint statement issued by the press secretaries of the outgoing and incoming presidents said that world areas discussed at the conference included the Far East, (Continued On Page Nine)

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The big keep getting bigger in the banking field. They have to grow as the economy grows and particularly as their biggest customers, the giant corporations, grow with increasing needs for funds.

But also banks in financial centers have had to grow to keep up with the Joneses in their own banking business. The postwar years have seen sharp changes in customer demands, in competition with other lending and saving institutions, in the size of loans, in trust activity.

Much of the banking growth has been through internal efforts but much of it in the last seven years has been due to a wave of mergers aimed at making large banks bigger and in spreading their activities into fields new to some of them.

The latest proposal is a merger of two big New York banks, the Manufacturers Trust and the Hanover Bank. If the plan goes through, the resulting giant would be the third largest in New York City and the fourth biggest in the nation.

California's Bank of America with $12 billion in resources is the nation's largest. In 1946 its assets were $5.4 billion.

Manufacturers Trust, now New York's fifth largest, has $4.4 billion, against $2.2 billion in 1946. The Hanover Bank, the city's eighth largest, has $2.1 billion, against $1.5 billion in 1946.

They report combined assets, if they merge, would be more than $6 billion.

They have specific reasons for merging. Hanover has a large and profitable trust department and a number of big corporate customers that Manufacturers would welcome. Manufacturers with 119 branches against Hanover's nine is strong in the fast growing business of serving small depositors and borrowers.

Hanover is one of the few New York banks still in the business of primarily serving big customers. In the last few years there has been a change in this business. The biggest corporations, although their money needs have grown with the nation's postwar boom, have turned in recent years away from keeping any idle funds on deposit in banks. Instead they put them into government securities where the yield has been better.

Banks catering primarily to corporations have suffered—but at the same time banks expanding dealings with individual savers and borrowers have flourished. This makes a natural climate for mergers.

TIME FOR VIOLENCE

By Noel M. Loomis

XXXIV
Hector pulled himself together. "I was riding the draw on Hackberry Creek looking for steers back in those ravines. I smelled the smoke of cedar wood, and located the smoke about a quarter of a mile away. I took two hands with me and snuck up the draw until we found the ravine."

"Can you tell us what you found?"

"They had a fire going and a cinch-ring in the fire."

"Were there any cattle in the vicinity?"

"About a hundred yards on upstream there were three two-year-olds in a smaller ravine, held back by brush piled across a narrow place. They were all branded LJ."

"Mr. Johnson, can you suggest how that brand might be altered?"

"Yes, sir. We had two hides sent back a month ago from Dodge City with the brands tailored."

"What was the LJ changed to?"

"E Flower de Luce Hook."

Houston smiled gently. "Mr. Johnson, will you describe that brand?"

"Well, two bars made the L into an E, and a coup' f hooks at the top of the J make a Flower de Luce."

"What was that last phrase?" asked Willis.

"It's cattle-land for Fleur de Lis, your honor," said Houston.

Willis glanced at Browning, saw no objection, and Houston went on. "What did you do with the three men, Mr. Johnson?"

"We brought 'em to the LJ and put two of 'em—these here tw—into the barn with their hands and feet tied. Then we tried to persuade the other one, Hicks Gentry, to testify against them."

"What kind of persuasion did you use?"

Hector looked uncomfortable. "We—that is, we propped up a wagon tongue and sort of pulled him up by a rope until his feet were off the ground."

"Did Mr. Gentry like that treatment?"

Hector frowned. "No, sir, but—you see—well, we had the rope tied around his neck."

Houston permitted himself a brief, dramatic smile.

Bart saw a movement closer to the judge's bench, and caught his breath.

Captain Arrington of the Texas Rangers had just arrived in court!

Houston asked, "What happened to Mr. Gentry?"

"We turned him loose finally, and told him to go back and tell Xenophon Jones we meant business!"

Houston's eyes widened dramatically. "Have you heard from this gentleman since?"

"I heard he was found this side of Mobeetie with a bullet in him."

Houston turned. "Your witness, Mr. Browning."

Browning seemed to be at a loss. His questions were largely repetitious; he tried to show that it was a completely normal thing for three men to build a fire in the ravine, but Hector Johnson refused to concede it.

"Call your next witness."

"We rest our case on this witness, ou honor."

Browning stepped forward.

"Three-Finger Halvorson will testify in his own behalf."

Browning established Halvorson's identity and got him to say that they had built the fire to cook a jack rabbit they had shot, and that he did not realize they were on LJ land. They had built the fire on the remains of an old fire, and the ring must have been there, unnoticed by them until Hector Johnson pulled it out of the ashes.

Houston took the witness for cross-examination.

"Where are you employed?"

Halvorson glared at him.

Houston said genially, "I said where are you employed?"

Halvorson was silent.

"Your honor!" shouted Stud Murphy. "We object!"

Bart brought his foot down slowly from the wheel hub.

Judge Willis looked up and waited what seemed like a long time. Then his musical bass voice rolled out over the spectators: "Will you give your name, please, if you are appearing in behalf of the defendants?"

Murphy did not answer.

Willis looked at Houston.

"I think you'd better proceed, counsel."

Houston repeated, "I asked you, Halvorson, where you are employed?"

"He doesn't have to answer that," Xenophon Jones and Piggie Benson called loudly.

Bart moved forward to the wagon tongue.

Judge Willis knew that murder was in the air, but he appeared as calm and unruffled as a cow chewing beargrass blooms in the shade. "Your name, please," he said.

Jones did not answer.

Houston said to Halvorson, "You know that you are subject to a fine for contempt if you do not answer?"

THE '61 CHEVY BRINGS JET-SMOOTH TRAVEL DOWN TO EARTH

This is the Impala Sport Coupe—and you'll find 19 other Jet-smooth Chevrolets where this one came from!

HERE'S WHAT GIVES CHEVY ITS JET-SMOOTH RIDE—
Full Coil suspension—Nothing cushions like a coil and Chevy's one of the few cars to give you a coil spring at every wheel. Precision-balanced wheels—Each wheel and tire assembly is precision-balanced before installation for smoother rolling with less vibration. Sound-hushing insulation—Roof, sidewalls, doors, instrument panel, hood, floor, and luggage compartment are carefully insulated against drumming and vibration. 51 built-in "shock absorbers"—the chassis is cushioned against shock and shake at every vital point. Live rubber body mountings—the body is joined to the chassis by large butyl rubber cushions that further isolate the ride from the road.

Better just circle your dealer's block the first time you try a Jet-smooth '61 Chevy. Get anywhere near an open highway and he's liable never to see you again.

What we mean, Chevy's ride whets your yen to travel. Wins you over with its delightful coil-spring smoothness, its hushed comfort and light steering. You find yourself feeling sorry for people who buy higher priced cars, thinking they have to pay premium prices for a luxury ride.

That may have been true at one time, but not any more. Chevrolet's ride, its roadability, just doesn't take second place to anybody's. As for the other pluses people usually expect only from costly cars, nobody can beat Chevy's Body by Fisher for fine workmanship. Notice the roominess, too. Space to stretch out and relax, larger door openings, higher seats, and an easier loading deep-well trunk that handles suitcases as if they were handbags.

Unless you work for the manufacturer, can you think of a real good reason for buying a more expensive car? We can't.

While the Jacoby-Smith system is different from all other bidding systems, there is nothing radical about it. We believe in light opening bids, but the light opening bid is a feature of the highly successful British Acol system and, strangely enough, also the earliest American bidding systems.

Light opening bids are going to get you trouble if you can't quit quickly and at a reasonable spot. Therefore, in Jacoby-Smith the opening spade bid guarantees at least a five card suit and if partner responds with two of a lower suit he shows at least 11 points.

With 11 high card points and two doubletons South's hand qualifies as an opening bid in standard American bidding and, of course, is a Jacoby-Smith bid.

North's two diamond response is normal as South's two spade rebid.

But a Jacoby-Smith North will pass. The two spade call shows a minimum or very near minimum Jacoby-Smith opening and 12 or 13, plus 11 does not indicate a game. Standard American bidders would probably try one more bid with the North hand and would land in the soup; particularly if South got in the act and went on to game.

Incidentally, the North-South hands will make exactly two spades with reasonably good defense and dummy play. They won't make two no-trump under any circumstances.

♥ CARD SENSE ♦

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1♥ Pass 2♠ Pass
2NT Pass 4♥ Pass
4NT Pass ?

You, South, hold:
♠A J 7 6 ♣A 6 5 4 ♦K Q J 10 ♣9

What do you do?
A—Bid 5♥. This Blackwood response shows two aces (as would five hearts) and a void suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding four no-trump your partner has bid five clubs over your four hearts. What do you do in this case?

"Wanted to rent—three bedroom house, suburb or city, Texas preferred."
The Texas-Arkansas border runs through the heart of this city.

Upper level will be used for continuous pedestrian mezzanine where stations, escalators and entrances to downtown shops will be located. Similar subways are planned for nearby Oakland and Berkeley.

Beef, Pork Cuts Nation's Best Food Bargains

FOOD REVIEW
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Expensive cuts of beef and bargain cuts of pork are featured at many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this week.

The slightly more numerous offerings of beef are mainly such cuts as rib roast, top or bottom round roast and a variety of steaks—rib, club, T-bone, sirloin and porterhouse. A few Midwest and Far West stores favor ground beef, while there are scattered specials on chuck roast and short ribs.

Pork items, run more to loins and the smaller picnic hams than to the more expensive hams and chops.

Grain-fed beef, which yields the better cuts, is fairly plentiful just now while pork is still on the scarce side.

Leg of lamb is the top item in parts of the East and Midwest, but poultry specials are few and far between, what with fryers up 2 to 10 cents a pound over a wide area.

Fruit and vegetable bins show a good assortment of winter bargains.

Best buys among vegetables are Danish, or white cabbage, endive, escarole, green onions from Arizona, mushrooms, peppers, parsnips where they're available from nearby stocks, Eastern potatoes, radishes, romaine lettuce and Hubbard and butternut squash. Medium size yellow onions remain an outstanding buy.

Fruit experts recommend golden delicious apples as an outstanding buy.

Other best bets are Macintosh and Cortland apples, cranberries, grapefruit, tangerines and limes.

Concord Women Have Program On Fabrics

The Concord Community Women's Club met Tuesday evening Jan. 10, at the home of Mrs. Robert Nickel. President, Mrs. Richard Morris opened the meeting with the parents' pledge to their children taken from the "Mothercraft" magazine.

Mrs. David Newby then gave devotions which were based on scripture from St. John. The secretary's report was read and approved. Roll call "Pet Peeve" was answered by fourteen members. The treasurer's report was read and approved for the future audit.

Correspondence consisting of several thank you notes and cards were read and shown to the group. Mrs. Clifford Fouts reported on the program for the March of Dimes campaign which the club is again participating in.

The president reminded members of the club rummage sale to be held Feb. 25 in Jacksonville behind the county jail. Mrs. Paul Nickel introduced the speaker for the evening, Mrs. Orville Ing from the Golden Rule Upholstering Company in Jacksonville. Mrs. Ing gave a most interesting talk on carpeting and fabrics for use in draperies and upholstery. She showed several sample fabrics and gave helpful hints for using them in the home.

The meeting was then adjourned and recreation was led by Mrs. Wilbur Zulauf. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Robert Nickel and Mrs. Paul Hess. Three guests, Mrs. Robert Kircher, Mrs. Giulio Lanzo, and Mrs. Leonard Werries were present.

Billy Graham Staff Member To Speak

ROODHOUSE — Recently when Rev. H. L. Janvrin, pastor of the First Baptist Church, attended a meeting in Decatur, he heard Rev. Owen Murphy speak to 250 ministers and laypeople. According to Rev. Janvrin this was the most unusual message that he has ever heard.

Rev. Murphy, from London, England, will speak this coming Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church on "When God Stepped Down from Heaven."

He tells in a fascinating and vivid way of the sweeping revival that happened in the Hebrides in 1964. Whole communities fell under the power of God. The revival continued for months. Lives, homes and communities were changed and transformed.

Rev. Murphy is an unusual speaker with an unusual message of what God can do in our day and age. He was a member of the Billy Graham evangelistic team. The public is cordially invited to attend this service next Sunday evening.

It's Certainly Not Eton'

What Is The Right School For Heir To A Throne?

PRINCE CHARLES at 8 in Kensington grade school... at 9 in Cheam... at 11 still at Cheam.

By TOM A. CULLEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

LONDON — (NEA) — A mother's concern about the "right" school for her boy has this entire nation talking.

The mother is Her Majesty, the boy Prince Charles, Prince of Wales. It is rumored he will be sent to Eton, Britain's most prestigious boys' school.

"Not Eton," cries Lord Altrincham, 36, who has thrown many a verbal dart at Britain's monarchy. Eton is a "snob school par excellence," his lordship says, adding that it would be "disastrously unwise to send Prince Charles there."

"Eton would equip Britain's future monarch for nothing more socially useful than a 'deb's delight,' stockbroker or Conservative Member of Parliament," all three held in low esteem by Lord Altrincham who, of course, is an old Etonian himself.

Although the British public has grown accustomed to the blarney of Lord Altrincham, his remarks about Prince Charles' future education are finding listeners.

The prince has outgrown Cheam, an expensive boarding school, which he has been attending for more than two years.

Most boys of his age and social class already are settled at prep schools, looking forward to university careers. The decision on Prince Charles' education cannot be delayed much longer.

Ideally, perhaps, the future Charles III should be sent to a state-supported day school such as the ones attended by millions of his future subjects.

But not even Lord Altrincham, the closest thing to a poor man's peer in this welfare state, thinks this would be a wise solution. The contrast between the luxury of life at Buckingham Palace and the rough-and-tumble of the "blackboard jungle" would be too great for an adolescent mind to bear easily.

Gordonstoun, the rugged school on the Moray coast of Scotland, which the prince's father, the Duke of Edinburgh, attended, would be a popular choice. Here class distinctions are few and the emphasis is on the development of self-reliance and other manly qualities.

But palace advisers to whom the Queen and Prince Philip are most apt to listen on such matters are reported to be dead set against Gordonstoun which they consider too unorthodox for a future monarch.

A boarding school seems to be the only practical solution. But which one?

Lord Altrincham, an ex-Guardsman and son of a first baron, who refuses to take his seat in the House of Lords because he is opposed to a hereditary aristocracy, has this to say:

"The prince must on no account be identified with any particular element in British society. He must not seem to belong to one class or clique, because it will be his function to transcend and, if possible, help destroy social barriers."

So the "Queen's scourge" rules out Eton, which he claims is surrounded by a "golden mist of wealth and social prestige."

A compromise choice finding favor with the public is Christ's Hospital in Horsham, Essex, a 400-year-old boarding school where boys from all classes receive an exemplary education.

Founded in 1552 by King Edward VI, Christ's Hospital is essentially a school for needy children. The school clothes and maintains many of its 800 pupils, setting a ceiling of $336 per year on contributions from parents.

But such rules might be waived for Prince Charles to allow him to benefit from contact with boys from all walks of life.

OUR NEW FIRST LADY

Jacqueline at 5, with mother, Mrs. John V. Bouvier (now Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss) when they won prize in family class at Easthampton, N. Y., horse show.

Jacqueline poses with father, John V. Bouvier, New York stockbroker, a few days before her 18th birthday.

Jacqueline as radiant bride. Her wedding to U. S. Senator John Kennedy Sept. 12, 1953, was social event.

Jacqueline, at time she was inquiring photographer on the old Washington Times-Herald, gets ready to snap picture of Dale Chestnut, a co-worker, as she feeds goldfish atop newspaper's pressroom. Pool in which they are standing was intended to cool room. Employees planted the fish.

The Kennedys, Jack, Jacqueline and Caroline, 3, are shown in their home in Georgetown, suburb of nation's capital, while taping a television program which appeared last September.

As First Lady, Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy expects to spend a great deal of time with her children, newborn John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Jr., and Caroline, 3, to make up for the fact that the busy President can't give them all the time he'd like.

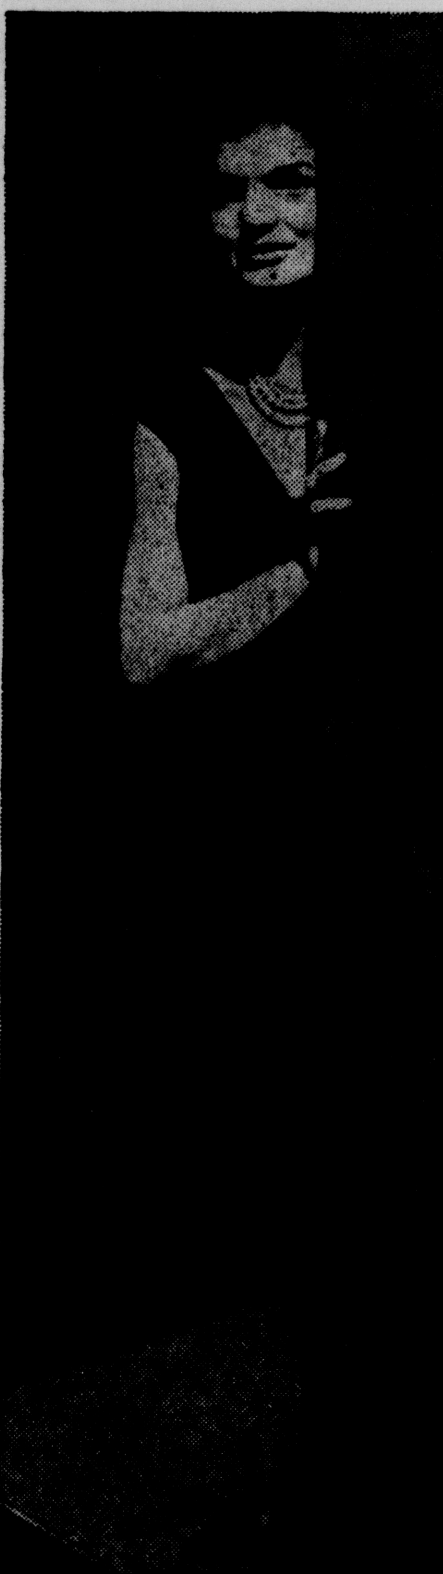

Her plans include a new nursery which the two youngsters will share. Baby John will have the same nurse, Luella Hennessey, who took care of Caroline. But Mrs. Kennedy has no intention of leaving the children mostly in the care of nurses or the Secret Service. She recalls a happy childhood, and intends that her children will be happy too.

Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy was born July 28, 1929, in Southampton on Long Island. Her father was the late John V. Bouvier, a New York stockbroker. Her mother, the former Janet Lee, is now Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, of McLean, Va.

After attending private schools, she was called "the most beautiful debutante of the year" when she came out in Newport, R. I., and New York in 1948. She went to Vassar two years, spent her junior year in Paris, and was graduated from George Washington University in Washington, D. C.

Her only job was as an inquiring photographer for the Washington Times-Herald. She worked for about a year, then quit to marry U. S. Senator John Kennedy, whom she met at a Washington party. Their wedding in Newport, R. I., on Sept. 12, 1953, was a social event.

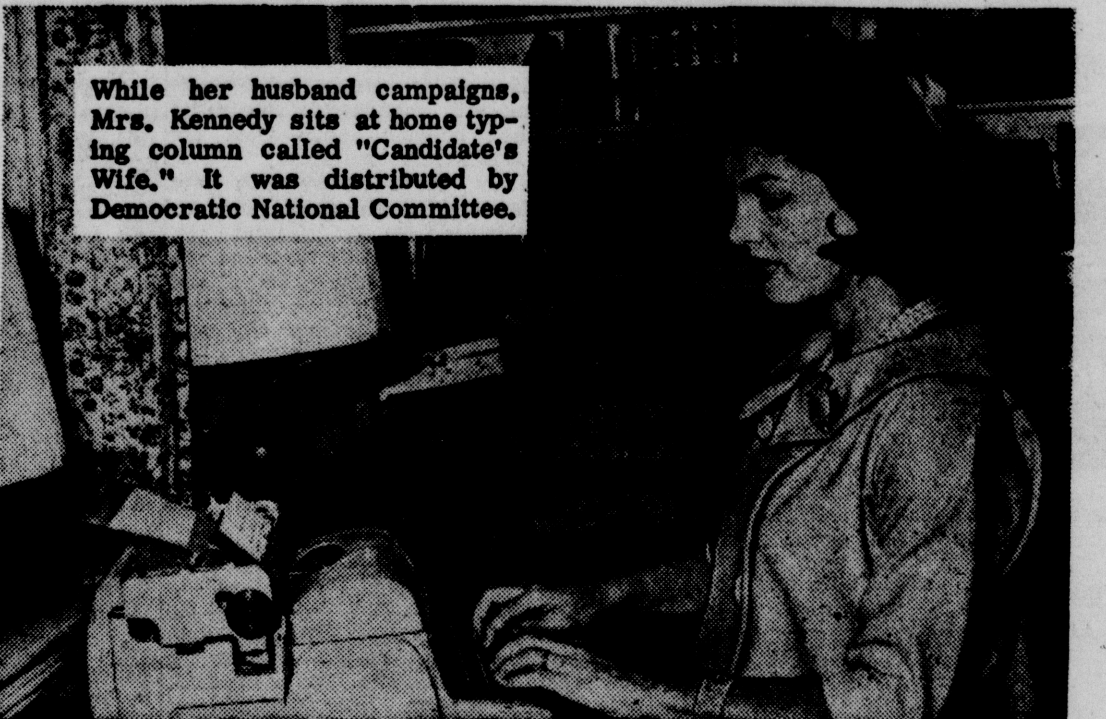

At 31, Jacqueline Kennedy is the nation's third youngest First Lady. Julia Gardiner was only 24 when she entered the Executive Mansion as the second wife of John Tyler in 1844. Frances Folsom was 22 when she married Grover Cleveland in the White House in 1886.

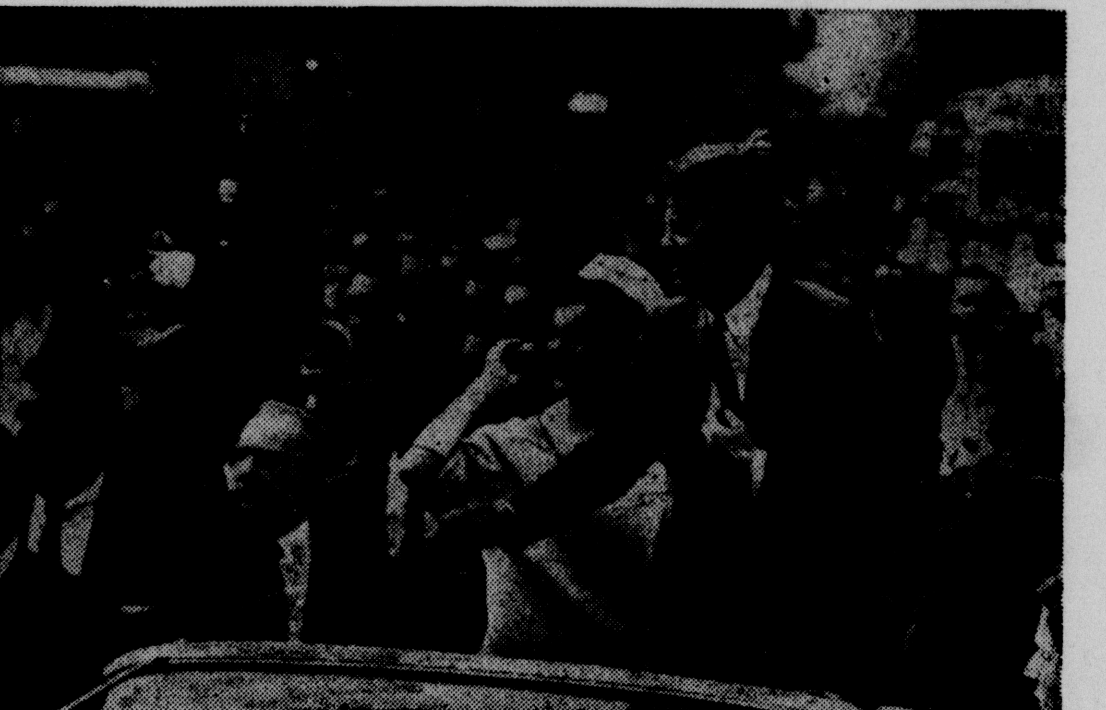

Jacqueline takes last minute looks at stage where her husband was about to start TV debate with Vice President Richard Nixon.

Couple Shaken Up In Collision On South Main

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Eades, 520 South Main street, were shaken up in a chain collision of three cars and a truck in the 500 block on South Main street at 8:40 o'clock Thursday morning, due to the icy condition of the street after a light snowfall.

Police said the couple's necks were snapped back suddenly when a truck and trailer collided with the rear of the Eades' 1959 Buick. Mr. Eades told officers he and his wife would visit a physician for a checkup later in the day.

The impacts involving four vehicles began when a 1963 Ford driven by Richard D. Sorrell, 416 South Main street, stalled on the ice while he was pushing a 1960 Ford driven by his brother, Kenneth Sorrell, of the same address.

According to police report, Eades was able to stop his car on the icy street, but was struck from the rear by an international truck and trailer driven by Gilbert L. McFerron of St. Louis, Mo. All of the vehicles, headed north, were damaged.

Capt. Willner and Patrolman Spain investigated the series of collisions.

Stephen Hale Wins Praise Of Gallery Critic

The New York Times of Jan. 18 reviewed a photographic display at the Little Gallery of the Hudson Park Branch, New York Public Library, with complimentary mention of a Jacksonville young man who is now a student of the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Hale is the son of Mrs. Hilda Hale, 414 East State street, an associate professor of English at MacMurray College. He is a 1957 graduate of Jacksonville high school.

"The range of his talents, which vary from documentation to experimental techniques, is particularly notable in the picture of a bird in flight against a dark wall and the solarized (tone reversal) print of a street crowd," the review New York Times writer said in describing Mr. Hale's work.

STUDY LEGISLATIVE ISSUES FOR C. OF C.

Beerup, chairman Inflation & Spending Control; Prye; C. E. Senn, Chairman, Tax Reform Committee; standing L to R, S. E. Pack, Chairman, Labor Legislation Committee; Robert Hemphill, Chairman, Social Security Expansion Committee; James McConnell, Chairman, Federal Controls of Business and Agriculture Committee. Not pictured, Harris Rowe, Chairman, Federal Intervention in State and Local Affairs Committee.

The purpose of the National Affairs Committee is to study the various legislative issues which will be coming before the 87th Congress in Washington this year. There are six major issue categories which have been developed by the United States Chamber of Commerce, Inflation and Spending Control, Tax Reform, Labor Legislation, Social Security Expansion, Federal Controls of Business and Agriculture and Federal Intervention in State and Local Affairs.

It will be the responsibility of these committees to become experts in their respective issue categories and to make recommendations on certain bills that are up before Congress. Upon the approval of these recommendations, Chamber members will be urged to write letters to congressmen expressing their own views on the many important items that will come up this year.

Thomas D. Ruane, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said "aggressive and sustained efforts are needed to offset the heavy pressures in Congress from narrow interest groups. Such pressures call for vigorous support of principals that promote progress through individual initiative. The activity of our Chambers' National Affairs Committee can help provide some of the leadership that is needed on important Congressional decisions in 1961."

Says U. S. Will Defend Formosa Whatever Risk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undersecretary of State-designate Chester Bowles told inquiring senators today the United States is "going to defend Formosa at whatever the cost and whatever the risks."

Bowles also testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he not only opposes recognition of Red China as things now stand, but also sees no possibility that the United States would meet the terms the Communists would demand for such recognition.

The committee began its hearing on his upcoming nomination in a packed committee room. Scores stood outside unable to get in.

Under questioning by Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., Bowles said Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung has imposed the condition that Formosa, Nationalist Chinese stronghold, must be a part of Communist China.

In addition, Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai made clear in an interview with writer Edgar Snow that there can be no discussion with the United States until it accepts as a fact that Formosa is a part of mainland China.

"Obviously we won't do that," Bowles said.

"I simply feel we are obviously not going to give up Formosa. We are going to defend Formosa at whatever the cost and whatever the risks."

Security Force To Top 5,000 At Inauguration

WASHINGTON (AP)—Security precautions as rigid as any ever imposed in this security-conscious capital will be directed at thwarting any potential assassin in Friday's inaugural crowds.

About one million persons are expected. The total security force will top 5,000.

Secret Service agents will stand on every rooftop, peer down every manhole, and scan every human cluster along the inaugural route between the Capitol and the White House.

Other agents will be hidden beneath the special platforms on which the incoming president will stand—at the capitol where John F. Kennedy will take the oath and at the White House where he will watch the inaugural parade.

Preparations for inaugural security began under Secret Service coordination soon after last November's election. While fewer than 200 Secret Service agents will be involved, they will get help from several thousand Washington police, hundreds of servicemen and a team of plainclothesmen from Washington and other cities.

The Secret Service is also counting on spectators to help protect Kennedy.

"If anyone in the crowd should make a threatening move," said Chief Inspector Michael Torina, "you can be sure someone nearby would have the courage and alertness to act."

'Boy In Well' Turns Out To Be Boys In Sewer

An emergency crew from the Jacksonville Fire Department rushed to the vicinity of Goltra avenue and Mulberry street in response to a call at 4:58 p.m. Wednesday that "a boy is in a well."

The firemen determined soon after arrival that, fortunately, a boy was not in a well, but boys had been playing out-of-bounds for their own safety.

A woman residing in the neighborhood phoned in the alarm after her small son told her excitedly that "a boy is in the well." Investigation revealed that the boys were in a storm sewer, and to the small child it appeared that they were in danger.

The boys were gone when the little fellow led the firemen to the sewer where others had been playing.

New Star Route From This City To White Hall

Establishment of a new postal Star Route from Jacksonville to White Hall to replace a former route to Roadhouse was announced Thursday by Postmaster Phillip Day of this city.

The postmaster said it was found necessary to extend the old Star Route to White Hall, as the C.B. & Q. removed its last two passenger trains last Saturday.

The new route will be covered by two trips each day. The morning trip leaving Jacksonville at 5:45 a.m. will go direct to Roadhouse and White Hall, and return by way of Alsey, Manchester, Murrayville, and Woodson, arriving back in Jacksonville at 7:55 a.m.

According to the new schedule, the second trip will leave Jacksonville at 3:25 p.m., going to Woodson, Murrayville, Manchester, Alsey, and White Hall. It will then pick up Roadhouse mail on the way back.

Postmaster Day said a temporary contract has been awarded to Harold and Donald Mouser of Woodson to operate the new Star Route until bids are opened Mar. 15, at which time a permanent contract will be awarded.

Bid forms may be obtained at the Jacksonville Post Office.

Picketing May Halt All Trains In New York

By FRANCIS STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP)—Striking harbor craft crewmen threw pickets at giant Pennsylvania Station today in a fast-spreading action which could knock out virtually all New York rail service. Such a tieup would quickly stop staggering travel woes for more than 200,000 commuters.

Half this number already were scrambling for other transportation through a shutdown of the New York Central and New Haven railroads operations at Grand Central Terminal.

The two railroads also shut off all long-distance passenger and freight operations into New York. Bus and highway jams grew—along with temper—as commuters from suburban Westchester County and Connecticut north of the city struggled to get to work by makeshift travel arrangements.

Some gave up and took hotel rooms in Manhattan for the duration. Paradoxically, it was a group of only 664 men that created such turmoil for so many. In addition, they are not trainmen. They are ferry and tugboat crewmen on vessels operated by 11 railroads.

Other railroad workers, who operate trains, refused to cross the sailors' picket lines.

Two major railroads use Pennsylvania Station, the Pennsylvania itself and the Long Island. The Long Island operates the biggest commuter service in the world. Despite pickets in the station, the two railroads reported they were continuing operations normally this morning. But it was anybody's guess as to whether they could continue. The Long Island during the night started court action in an effort to halt the picketing.

School District 117 Community News

Illinois spent less than $100.00 per capita for education in 1959, according to figures released by the Bureau of the Census that per capita state and local expenditures for education in the United States was $98.00, while Illinois fell below this figure. The states of Alaska, Delaware and California spent more than the total cost is borne by local property taxes than in most other states.

—District 117—

Universal adoption of behind-the-wheel driver training in high schools could reduce teen-age traffic accidents by half, the American Medical Association was told at its annual clinical meeting in Washington. Two orthopedic surgeons reported that 45% of all deaths in the 16-25 age group each year result from traffic accidents; nearly 30% involved in fatal traffic accidents are under 25. They urged state laws requiring high school driver training as a pre-requisite for licensing teen-age drivers.

—District 117—

The trend today is toward a longer school day and a longer year. Many schools are holding "early bird" classes, starting at 7:30 a.m. in order to offer subjects which are difficult to fit into the regular schedule. The N.E.A. predicts that a 200-day school year is coming rapidly. In Illinois 176 days are required by law. In addition, more and more schools are offering summer classes to students eager to take them.

Legion Post At New Berlin To Buy Neon Sign

NEW BERLIN—American Legion Post 743 of New Berlin met on Monday evening at 8 p.m. in the Legion Home, with Dan Curtis, commander in charge of the meeting.

During the business session, the group voted to have a neon sign erected for the Legion Home, and voted to send a donation of $10 to the Disabled Veterans. The group was again urged to donate blood for Mrs. George Luken who has needed many transfusions in recent months.

Appeal For Donors

Anyone who is in good health and feels he or she can give blood is to contact Commander Dan Curtis. It was reported that 20 pints are now needed to replace that which has already been used. This is a most urgent plea.

County Commander Walter Freeman and County Chaplain A. A. Winkler were present at the meeting, and both spoke briefly.

Fish Fry Friday

Plans were laid for the coming Stag fish fry to be held Friday evening, Jan. 20, in the fairgrounds building, New Berlin.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The Allied Medical Career's club met on Monday evening at 7:30 at the home of sponsor Mrs. Henry Hughes. President Marylou Battleson presided at the meeting.

Melinda Battleson, in the absence of the secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Discussion was given to the reports made of the open house attended by the group at Memorial hospital, Springfield, and the recent tour made of Barnes hospital in St. Louis.

A report was also made of the assistance members gave to the Immunization Series program in the schools of the district.

Plans were made to distribute the gifts for Veterans at the Jacksonville State hospital in February, with the members making cookies and candies for this project to be given with gifts from the New Berlin Woman's club members.

Cancer dressings were made during the evening.

Entertain Mothers

The GAC of the New Berlin high school entertained their mothers in a mother-daughter social on Thursday evening, Jan. 12, beginning at 7 p.m. in the school gym. Mrs. Betty Brown, physical education teacher and sponsor of the group, introduced the president, Ann Cowman, who in turn introduced the other officers: vice president, Sally Lovekamp; secretary-reporter, Judy Loving; treasurer, Martina Hatfield; Orange Team captain, Mary Standerfer, and Blue Team captain, Andrea McCullough.

An evening of volleyball and cage ball was enjoyed with the mothers participating.

The chilled punch served following the activities was most delicious.

Too Big To Swallow

Twentieth century dictators, large and small, have made a standard practice of trumping up fears of outside invasion. But seldom have they gone to the lengths that Fidel Castro is pursuing in Cuba.

We all understand this reason for stirring the fears. It is a way of distracting the citizens from the discomforts they may be suffering at home. It may encourage them to endure still more.

Moreover, it is a way of solidifying popular support behind a regime. Nothing seems to cement a people more quickly than a threat, imaginary or otherwise, from the outside.

As employed by the German Nazis and the Russian Communists, this technique has served a double purpose. In addition to cementing support, it provides grist for a propaganda effort designed to fix blame on other nations for acts the complainants decide to commit.

For all his attempts to fan the revolutionary fires elsewhere in Latin America, Castro isn't in the same league with these practitioners on that score.

But, at the pretense he is being invaded, he would be hard to match at any time.

What will Castro tell the Cubans when the invasion from America fails to come off?

Naturally he will not admit the hoax. To do that is to acknowledge the crushing truth—that his whole regime is a hoax upon the Cuban people.

Presumably he will try to persuade them that his showy preparations "scared America off." The Cubans who accept Castro are gullible. But are they gullible enough to believe that their tiny island could stand out against the United States if we were really bent upon subduing it?

Most likely they are not. The chances are good that when the invasion doesn't materialize more and more Cubans will begin to have doubts about their hero.

Eventually those doubts will be big enough and numerous enough to be woven into a fabric of defeat for the fraudulent Castro. But, as has been noted often before, this is a fabric that only the Cuban people themselves can fashion.

They Have Their Numbers

An official handbook just published by the Central Office of Information in Britain reveals many interesting statistics about the 52 million people on that tight little island.

The average Briton works from 42 to 46 hours a week and earns less than $2,100 a year. The average wage in industries is about $40 for men, $20 for women. Even so, those figures are almost double what they were 10 years ago.

Britons consume 380 million packages of frozen food a year, a product almost unknown 10 years ago. They also consume more candy than the average person in any other country.

Scrap Iron Dealers

The Chinese Communists fired a record number of artillery shells at the islands of Quemoy and Matsu in 1960, reports the official Nationalist Chinese news agency. The count was 181,280 rounds at Quemoy and 36 at Matsu, tripling 1959's score.

Stray dogs were getting awfully smart in De Tour, Mich. They could recognize the village marshal's car and did they fade. The council met the emergency and bought the marshal a

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, in his farewell address to the nation, put his finger on the very point by which history will judge the success or failure of his presidency.

How well in his eight years in the White House did he balance one national need against another?

That word "balance" had a major place in his talk Tuesday night. His emphasis on it pinpointed the dilemma facing any American president.

"Each proposal must be weighed in the light of a broader consideration: the need to maintain balance in and among national programs—balance between our essential requirements as a nation and the duties imposed by the nation upon the individual."

Now in answer to your first question, I regret to repeat that we say there is no cold cure for the very simple reason that there is no cold cure. Why then, you may ask, do each of your friends believe in the virtue of his own particular cold cure?

Here are some of the reasons: Like all other infections, the common cold may fade out of its own accord before it comes into full bloom. Hence any medication that you happen to be taking at that particular time might be credited with the cure. That's why each of your friends has his own particular cure. If there were any one effective cure, each of your friends would be taking the same cure.

Many people think they're catching cold each time their noses become stuffy or runny. But, you know, your nose may feel clogged and run a bit if you sleep in a stuffy room. Or sit for awhile in a smoky room. Or inhale smog

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

Home Remedies Are NOT Cure for Common Cold

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
"Why is it," demands an indignant correspondent, "that you doctors continue to say there is no such thing as a cold cure? Almost every one has a cure of some kind or other that he swears by. Don't you want people to get better unless you get your fee?"

I'll answer the second question first. I can assure you, my friend, that if a true cold cure were announced at any medical meeting, anywhere in the world, the cheering would make you think you were in Pittsburgh when Mazowski hit that home run in the World Series.

Now in answer to your first question, I regret to repeat that we say there is no cold cure for the very simple reason that there is no cold cure. Why then, you may ask, do each of your friends believe in the virtue of his own particular cold cure?

Here are some of the reasons: Like all other infections, the common cold may fade out of its own accord before it comes into full bloom. Hence any medication that you happen to be taking at that particular time might be credited with the cure. That's why each of your friends has his own particular cure. If there were any one effective cure, each of your friends would be taking the same cure.

Many people think they're catching cold each time their noses become stuffy or runny. But, you know, your nose may feel clogged and run a bit if you sleep in a stuffy room. Or sit for awhile in a smoky room. Or inhale smog or an irritant fume. Of if you're coming down with an attack of hay fever. Under any of these circumstances, you'd feel clear as soon as the atmosphere cleared. If, at the same time, you happened to be taking medicine, you might think it had cured the cold. But what you did was to cure an incorrect diagnosis.

While the usual cause for the common cold is a virus that is not responsive to treatment, an identical condition is occasionally produced by staphylococci, streptococci or pneumococci that can be bumped off by any one of several antibiotics. When this occurs you are correct in stating that you've cured a nasal infection that resembles the common cold. But it is not exactly the kind of nasal infection that's produced by the virus of the common cold.

Now, my friend, if you'd like to prove that you and your friends are right and that I am wrong, I'll tell you what to do. Call a meeting of all those who have cold cures. Choose any one of the methods. Have every one present agree to a trial at the next opportunity.

Continue your experiment until every member has tried every cure. If then you can show that any "cure" has a batting average over the .500 mark, let me know and I'll dine publicly on crow.

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ingrid Thulin, first of the Ingmar Bergman troupe to be imported by Hollywood, is a golden-haired beauty with some startling views on sex and Sweden, violence and Hollywood.

This is all to the good. She speaks her mind. She is gorgeous. She can act up a storm. Hollywood needs her. But does she need Hollywood?

"I don't know if I like it here," she said. "I go to work in the dark. I come home in the dark. In Sweden I work at the studio from 9 to 5. That is more sensible."

She may be seeing much of California in the future. She has more films to do for MGM and is signed for five with the Mirisch Co. She is living at the Bel-Air Hotel with husband Harry Schein, a young businessman who remarked that "in Sweden Ingrid is paid less as an actress than my secretary."

On a rare day off from shooting, Miss Thulin talked on such matters as:

Americans—"I have never met such friendly, cheerful people. Here, courtesy is a way of life."

Swedish vs. American films—"You have violence, we have sex. I think I like the sex in films better."

"The sex is put in strictly for the export trade. It isn't for the Swedes; they are bored with sex."

"There is a lot of nude bathing in Swedish films for the South American market and other places that like to see it. No, I have never done it; they know I won't."

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Chicken Korma Is Spiced Dish

CHICKEN Korma and Rice Pilau, an inspiration of Indian cookery, is well-spiced but pleasant to the Western palate.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Written For NEA

East Indian dishes are subtly spiced, inevitably, as India is the home of true spices. One dish, new to Americans, was introduced at the American Spice Trade Association dinner at New York's Hotel Astor. It is called Chicken Korma, and a blend of the following spices give it an exotic delicacy—cloves, cardamom seed, whole black pepper, cinnamon, bay leaves, turmeric, coriander seed, ginger, red pepper, garlic and onion. Those savors are mingled in a rich glaze which is spicy, but not "hot."

Rice Pilau is the accompaniment to Chicken Korma. Cardamom seeds, whole cloves, stick cinnamon, caraway seeds and bay leaf season a good lamb broth in which the rice is cooked, the whole then enriched with lamb morsels and mushrooms.

Chicken Korma
(Yield: 8 servings)
3 pounds breast and legs of chicken
1 cup yogurt
2½ teaspoons salt
2 cup onion flakes
1 cup water
1 cup butter or margarine or peanut oil
6 whole cloves
4 whole cardamom
6 whole black peppers
1 stick cinnamon, 2 inches long
2 bay leaves
1 teaspoon turmeric
1 tablespoon ground coriander
1 teaspoon ground cumin seed

1 teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon red pepper
1 teaspoon garlic powder
1 cup tomato puree
Wash chicken. Mix yogurt and salt with chicken and let marinate 1 hour. Combine onion flakes and 1 cup water. Let stand until softened, 6 to 8 minutes or until all water is absorbed. Melt butter or margarine slowly over low heat. Skim off foam and discard. Add onions and cook 15 minutes or until well browned. The cloves, cardamom and black peppers in a cheese cloth bag and add along with cinnamon, bay leaves and turmeric. Stir and cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cover and continue cooking 30 minutes. Add remaining spices and cook 5 minutes. Add tomato puree. Mix well. Cover and cook about 5 more minutes. Remove chicken from sauce and brown in hot oil. Cover sauce and let it cook when chicken is browning.

The Name Is Jacqueline To All but Her Husband

By JERRY BENNETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Stop calling her Jackie. Like her husband, who also wishes newspaper headline writers would drop the "Jack" in favor of John or J.F.K., Mrs. John F. Kennedy would prefer to be called Jacqueline.

But what John and Jacqueline dislike seeing in print, they love hearing from each other. He always calls her Jackie, and she always calls him Jack.

The Sound Made by Pagemaster, the small electronic alarm system that buzzes in a person's pocket when he is wanted on the phone, is anything but music to the ears of Howard Mitchell, director of the National Symphony.

The device has been issued to cabinet members, congressmen and inaugural officials so they can be notified of phone calls no matter where they are during inauguration festivities. When the device goes off, the carrier is supposed to call a special message center which triggers the Pagemasters to find out who phoned him.

Mitchell tried one out for a week and then gave it back. The device kept going off right in the middle of rehearsals.

Sheraton-Park Hotel bartenders have concocted a new drink especially for women attending inauguration festivities. It's called the Jacqueline Rose and consists of Cointreau, Jamaica rum, lime juice and sugar. The drink is served over shaved ice with a white rose floating on top.

During Inauguration Week, Republicans promoted a winding of their own called the Transition Ball. In a letter announcing the event to Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), Democratic National Committee chairman, Lyman Brownfield, head of the ball committee wrote:

"Our committee feels that this ball would become firmly established as a bipartisan function in the highest tradition of American politics—that is, the Republicans will do it this year and we expect the Democrats to carry it on in 1965."

Robert S. McNamara, newly named secretary of defense, has two piles of papers on his desk. One contains information about his new job. The other is a stack of personal bills.

The Late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was such an avid doodler at international conferences that U.S. security men would move in fast after meetings to gather up these bits of paper before anyone else could get them.

But lately it's reported that an unnamed diplomat of high position has turned his hand to verse instead of doodling during idle moments between confabs on Laos. Here is one of his doggerels:

"Our duty never will we shirk it AT sixes do not work. And if the danger grows and grows We next will send them plastic bows."

We think an arrow surely sped Can kill a paratrooper dead. And hopefully a David's sling Can catch an IL on the wing.

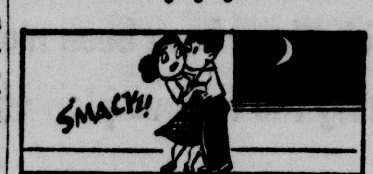

As last resort (this calms our fears) We'll jet airlift them pikes and spears."

Film Stars Frank Sinatra and Peter Lawford, in town for the big inaugural gala, are on a potato chip kick, according to Stalter, Hilton waiters. They have been ordering bowls of crumblers sent to their suite, and the hotel is keeping a close eye on its larder to keep up with the demand.

National Complaint Week Would Clear the Air

Just read a magazine article called "Why Don't We Complain?" which hammers home the point that Americans are getting so anxious to be unobtrusive that we're getting downright mealy-mouthed. Those aren't the author's words—but they're his sentiments.

Come to think of it maybe we don't complain as often as we should. Maybe we ARE so anxious to be inconspicuous, to be considered pleasant and easy to please that we don't cry out in outraged indignation when we really should.

Maybe what we need—along with all the other special days and weeks we celebrate—is a Complaint Week.

During that one week of the year all of us—Miss, Mr. and Mrs. Milquetoast—could make a special effort to overcome our shyness and reluctance to stand up for our rights and complain at the top of our lungs whenever we feel we have been put upon.

Instead of mild grumbling or philosophical shrugs we could, during Complaint Week, register our complaints where they might do some good.

During C Week we wouldn't say "Why doesn't someone do something about such-and-such?" We would do it ourselves.

During C Week we would stand right up in meeting and speak our minds, instead of sitting meekly by and voting with the majority even though we don't think with the majority.

C Week could be so successful that one week would be all we would need. After a week of standing up for our rights we might find it is so much more fun and so much more rewarding than going around meekly trying not to offend anyone that we would be confirmed complainers.

For so long everybody has been so intent on winning friends and not irritating anyone that asserting ourselves might prove so exhilarating we wouldn't give it up after a week's trial run. Things might not be so peaceful. But they would be a lot more interesting if more of us would exercise the right to say, "I protest."

Ruth Millett's brand new booklet, "Happier Wives: (hints for husbands)" is available. To order your copy, mail 25c to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c/o Journal Courier, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

FREE REPAIRS

ST. LOUIS (P)—Eugene Meyers, a mechanic, bought an accident-damaged car sight unseen and went to pick it up.

He found a car, one side bashed in and a radio and fishing equipment on the back seat, just as described.

The keys fit and he was able to drive it to a garage where he and a friend spent the rest of the day making repairs. Then the seller showed up and said it was the wrong car. A check of the license led to Edmond F. Meyer, who had reported the car stolen.

"They did a pretty good job," he said of the free repair job.

Board Approves Plan For Outside Help In Grading

The Board of Education in its regular monthly meeting appropriated one thousand dollars to be used to employ lay readers for the English department of the high school for the second semester. Lay readers may be former English teachers or English majors who will grade themes at home, thus relieving the classroom teachers of some of this work and making it possible for more written work to be assigned. Prospective readers will be selected from those who can meet certain requirements which will be set up.

This plan of employing outside help to read themes has proven very successful in many cities. It may make it possible for the high school to meet one of the recommendations of the Education Advisory Council that students be required to write one theme each week.

To further implement this recommendation, approval was given to add one or more English teachers to the staff next year in an effort to reduce the load to approximately one hundred students per teacher.

Another recommendation of both the Advisory Council and the English teachers would provide for a special reading program in the junior and senior high school which would stress comprehension, vocabulary and speed. The Board requested that plans be prepared for including such a program in the junior high school curriculum next year.

Summer school classes on a self-supporting basis were approved for 1961, as were adult evening classes in typewriting and agriculture for the second semester.

In other business the president and secretary were authorized to sign a contract with Smith, Kratz and Associates for the architectural and engineering work on the addition of one classroom and two toilet rooms for the Murrayville school.

The board also took action to cause all school sponsored activities, including athletic contests, to be held on Friday and Saturdays in so far as it is possible. Coaches are to be urged to do everything in their power to get other schools to cooperate in scheduling games on times other than nights before school days.

The first industry established by European settlers in America was logging.

FHA 'Daddy Date' Night Fun For New Berlin Pops

NEW BERLIN—The FHA girls of the New Berlin high school held their Daddy Date night on Saturday evening at 7:30 in the high school gym.

Carol Curtis, chairman of the committee in charge, opened the evening's entertainment with having the girls play their dads in volleyball. The girls later played their dads in basketball, and failed to notice for a time that the original court of five fathers had somehow swelled to a court of eight by the end of the game—carrying a heavy point lead in favor of the dads.

A balloon race followed, with the daughters opposite their fathers. It must go on record that the fathers out-scored their daughters in all of the games.

At the close of the recreation, balloons were attached to the ankles and fathers danced with their daughters. At the end of the dance, couples still having inflated balloons were the winners. Darlene Clary and her father Len; Andrea McCullough and father, John; and Jackie Finn and brother, Harold were acclaimed winners of this event.

The group closed the evening with refreshments served in the Home Economics room of the school, where president Andrea McCullough thanked all members and guests for coming, and the fathers were introduced.

Carol Curtis, as chairman for the evening, was assisted by Nancy Marr, Jackie Finn and Alice Grider.

The FHA of the New Berlin high school is sponsoring a Sweetheart Dance to be held Saturday, Feb. 11, from 8 to 12 in the community room of the school. Tickets will be available at the door for 50c singles, and couples 75c. Music for the evening will be furnished by Jim Shepherd's Combo and the high school dance band. The American Legion Post 745 of New Berlin is sponsoring a stag fish fry to be held Friday evening, Jan. 20, beginning at 5 p.m. in the fairgrounds building, New Berlin.

Pike Man Buys 885 Acre Ranch Near Glasgow

GLASGOW—The 885-acre Cunningham Ranch, located about two miles south of Glasgow, on the Glasgow-Patterson road, has been purchased by Victor Calender of Pittsfield from William Cunningham of Glasgow, who has owned the ranch since April, 1939.

Mr. Calender, who does earth moving and construction work, plans to make some changes and improvements about the ranch. However, Mr. Calender and family plan to continue to reside in Pittsfield for the present, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith, who have resided in the tenant house on the ranch for the past several years will remain there for the time being.

The ranch, prior to the time it was bought by Mr. Cunningham was known as the Ryder ranch, owned by the late Joseph Ryder for several years, and before that time it was called the Robinson ranch. Well known in this area, it is made up mostly of rough pasture land ideal for feeding cattle. However there are several acres of creekbottom land suitable for raising grain.

The Missionary Society of the local Christian church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lela Hester. Roll call was answered by favorite Scripture verse and favorite song. Devotional worship theme, "A Way of Courage." Scripture was read from Ephesians 4 and Hebrews 12.

The lesson theme, "Together in Facing a New Day" showed new patterns of partnership which have emerged as the "younger" churches have grown to maturity, and how to recognize some of the changes in the missionary role brought about by the new patterns. Mrs. Elsie Smith was lesson leader. Special numbers were reading by Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, and reading by Mrs. Ola Drake. Program closed with a hymn and the Missionary Benediction.

During the social hour names of

Bluffs And Griggsville Score Victories At Winchester

★ GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD ★

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

By BILL McCORMICK
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The most useless thing ever invented in sports is the third heavyweight title bout between Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson, currently scheduled—subject to the whims of Cus D'Amato and the vagaries of bumbling promoters—for Miami March 13.

The only thing the silly series proves is that, whether or not you like his ways, Cus D'Amato is one of the most effective managers the boxing business has ever known—from the standpoint of his fighter, which is the only fair way to evaluate the pilot of a pug.

D'Amato has protected Patterson with the ferocity of a mama bear and coddled him like Little Lord Fauntleroy while steering him to the title twice with an absolute minimum of personal jeopardy. And that's the rub—Patterson hasn't fought anybody.

The only ranking heavyweight the champion engaged, before his inexplicable knockout of Archie Moore in an elimination to determine the successor to Rocky Marciano, was Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson. A flashy fighter at the time, Jackson won the vote of one arbiter but Patterson got the decision and most of the money.

PATTERSON'S FIRST title defense was against Jackson but by then Tommy, having gone the way of all flesh, was stopped in 10. While such proven heavyweights as Eddie Machen, Zora Foley, Nine Valdes (yes, Valdes) and others who could have tested Patterson were being shunned as though they were by a juke out of Typhoid Mary, the champion was having a field day with hand-picked Perceval Popovers.

He got good money for disposing of the likes of Pete Rade-macher, a lumbering amateur making his professional debut; inept Roy Harris, and Brian London, especially imported from Britain to serve as the highest-priced sparring partner in history in a Patterson warm-up for Johansson.

Reports from abroad said that Johansson was pretty horrible to behold. The gist was that he boxed like a hysterical woman, couldn't take it and was inclined to flee under heavy pressure. He had a good right hand, they said, if he landed it early as he did against Eddie Machen, whom he stopped in the first round. In other words, Johansson wasn't nearly as formidable a contender as most of the others around but he qualified for Patterson—in D'Amato's opinion—by running out of a contracted return bout with Machen.

IT JUST HAPPENED that Patterson was even more futile than Johansson the first time they met. As listless as a dead oyster, Flailing Floyd was dribbled all over the ring by the Nonchalant Norseman before the referee finally called a halt.

In the second go-round, Patterson—wide awake and alert this time—made the Swatting Swede live up to advance notices by leaving him for dead in the fifth round.

Net result: Nothing but a testimonial to D'Amato's sagacity. The fighters were right back where they started from but Patterson had accumulated at least $2 million in just seven fights as champion against carefully culled contenders.

At those prices, you can hardly blame D'Amato for prolonging the series as long as he can. The boys may wind up with a longer run than Abie's Irish Rose. And why not? Their fate is even funnier.

Fullmer Has Plan To Get Around Laws

WEST JORDAN, Utah (P) — Gene Fullmer says he has figured out how to get around Nevada's boxing laws, if Sugar Ray Robinson is sincere in wanting to avoid another draw.

Fullmer suggested Wednesday, mainly for the record, that if the Feb. 25 bout in Las Vegas is a draw, the boxers rest 30 minutes and fight another 15 rounds.

Robinson fought the NBA midweight champion to a draw in Los Angeles Dec. 3. He asked Nevada officials to provide for a sudden-death round should the Las Vegas bout end the same way. Nevada Athletic Commissioner Jim Deakin told Robinson that state law prohibits a fight of more than 15 rounds.

Fullmer's manager, Marv Jensen, says the NBA titlist is sincere about this one being a fight to the finish, and the Fullmer-Jensen camp reported new reasons for strengthening Gene's hold on the 48-state title.

Jensen said he received a letter from German promoter Fritz Greutzel offering Fullmer a tax-free $100,000 purse to meet European Middleweight King Gustav Scholz somewhere in Germany, probably next May.

CHARLESTON TO LAY OUT IN 1961

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (P) — Charleston, the smallest city in triple A baseball, has decided to sit out the 1961 American Association season because of money troubles.

The Senators, operated as a community-owned club last season, finished within the standings and last in home attendance—95,000 as compared with 183,000 in the pennant-winning year of 1958. Last year's operating loss ran more than $80,000.

Charleston's withdrawal Tuesday night saved the American Association the problem of searching for an eighth club. Only six remain for 1961—Omaha, Denver, Louisville, Houston, Dallas and Indianapolis. Houston leaves next year for the National League.

Charleston (pop. 85,796) is the second community-owned Triple-A club to throw in the towel because of financial woes. Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League struck out earlier. The PCL preserved its eight-team status by taking in Honolulu.

JIM RIVERA STARTS 10TH SEASON WITH SOX
CHICAGO (P) — Outfielder Jim Rivera, starting his 10th season with the club, and rookie pitcher Alan Eric, Wednesday were signed by the Chicago White Sox for 1961. The Sox now have 3 of their 34 listed players under contract.

Rivera, 33, batted .333 in 46 games last season. Eric, 23, had a 10-7 record last season for Lincoln, Neb., of the Class B Three-I League. Previously signed was veteran pitcher Early Wynn.

CUBS SIGN HEIST, BERTLE
CHICAGO (P) — The Chicago Cubs Wednesday signed outfielder Al Heist and catcher Dick Bertle, bringing 29 into the fold for the 1961 baseball season.

Heist, 23, hit .238 in 41 games for the Cubs last season after his purchase from Sacramento in July. Bertle, 25, joined the Cubs last year after finishing the American Association season at Houston and batted .133 in 5 games.

KNICKS PURCHASE JORDAN
NEW YORK (P) — The New York Knicks Wednesday bought Phil Jordan from the Cincinnati Royals in a straight cash deal. The sum was not disclosed.

SITS THIS DANCE IN—Jim Shoulders had a tough time with Grubstake, which appeared to be wanting to sit this dance out. The Henryetta, Okla., cowpoke stayed on, however, to take second place money in the sixth go-round of an exciting National Finals Rodeo in Dallas.

Norm Van Brocklin New Minnesota Vikings Coach

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (P) — Norm Van Brocklin, the colorful Dutchman who carried the Philadelphia Eagles to the National Football League championship, Wednesday was named head coach of the new Minnesota Vikings.

Van Brocklin's appointment under a three-year contract ended a four-month quest by the Vikings for an established pro football figure to direct them in their inaugural year in the NFL.

He steps into the coaching ranks three days after his valedictory as a player. Appearing in the East-West NFL All-Star game Sunday the 34-year-old quarterback hurled three touchdown passes.

Salary terms were not revealed. Van Brocklin becomes one of the youngest head coaches in the NFL. Behind him is a 12-year career of professional stardom that was climaxed in 1960 with the Eagles' championship.

"Among Norm's greatest qualities as a player," Vikings General Manager Bert Rose said, "is his demonstrated ability of leadership. As a new team in a tough league the Vikings will require the maximum degree of leadership and direction of a squad that will be youthful in its makeup."

Van Brocklin called his new undertaking "a tremendous challenge but also a tremendous opportunity."

One of his first chores, he said, would be to take a hard look at the NFL roster to help in the selection of 36 players who will be made available to the Vikings as their bedrock talent for the 1961 season.

Van Brocklin's appointment came less than two weeks after he severed connections with the Eagles, irritated at not being offered the head coaching job to succeed the retiring Buck Shaw.

The Dutchman contends he was promised the Eagles' No. 1 job three years ago when he joined the club. He refused an offer earlier this month to be playing assistant coach with the Eagles.

In bouncing to their 10th straight victory, the Tar Heels shot a blistering 66.7 per cent from the floor during the second half. Overall they hit for 53.5 per cent. State hit on only 36.6 per cent of its tries.

The triumph gave the Tar Heels a 12-2 mark overall and a 5-0 conference record. State went down to its fifth defeat against nine victories overall and its fourth loss in six conference contests.

LEFT-HANDER NOTCH CLOSER TO SENIOR TITLE
BELLAIR, Pa. (P) — George Hagarty of Detroit scored a 1-up victory Wednesday and moved to a notch closer to becoming the first left-handed winner of the American Seniors Golf Championship.

Hagarty moved into the quarter-finals of the 27th annual event by edging George Hardy of Evanston, Ill., in the day's best match. Hagarty, 4-up through seven holes and 2-up through 13, couldn't stop the rallies of Hardy. It wasn't until the 17th, when Hardy missed a 4-foot putt, that Hagarty went ahead for keeps.

The co-medalist, Jack Russell of Clearwater and Dick Owen of Dunedin, advanced to the round of eight. Also remaining on contention was one former champion, George Edmondson of Tampa, who won the event in 1949.

PLAYER, UMPIRE ENTERS SPORTS HALL OF FAME
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (P) — Lon Warneke, one of the few men ever to appear in the World Series as both player and umpire, enters Arkansas' Sports Hall of Fame Thursday night.

Warneke, who pitched for the Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals before becoming an umpire in 1946, now is in the veterinarian business in Hot Springs.

CALL OFF SCHEDULED STRIKE
LONDON (P) — England's big league soccer players Wednesday called off their scheduled strike, set for Saturday, after reaching an agreement with club owners over wages and contracts.

Tar Heels Clip Carolina State

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina's sixth-ranked Tar Heels humbled North Carolina State 77-66 Wednesday night in an Atlantic Coast Conference basketball game before 12,000 spectators.

The Tar Heels' pair of York Laree and Doug Moe each pumped 27 points as Coach Frank McGuire's team grabbed an early lead, ran up a 39-25 halftime margin and poured it on after intermission.

In bouncing to their 10th straight victory, the Tar Heels shot a blistering 66.7 per cent from the floor during the second half. Overall they hit for 53.5 per cent. State hit on only 36.6 per cent of its tries.

The triumph gave the Tar Heels a 12-2 mark overall and a 5-0 conference record. State went down to its fifth defeat against nine victories overall and its fourth loss in six conference contests.

McKENDREE MOVES CLOSER TO CONFERENCE TITLE
LEBANON, Ill. (AP) — McKendree moved a notch closer to a Prairie College Conference title Wednesday night with a 77-49 drubbing of Blackburn.

Blackburn made a tough fight of it for the first half, which ended in a 30-30 tie. But after five minutes elapsed in the second half the Bearcats took the lead and continuously widened it.

LEADING CANDIDATE ENDS SUCCESSFUL CAREER
MIAMI (P) — Roving Minstrel, a leading candidate for Hialeah's $100,000 Flamingo Stakes, was destroyed by a veterinarian Wednesday to end the pain of a brain concussion.

The bay colt suffered the concussion Tuesday, when he fell in the walking ring by his barn. His hind legs buckled when he reared and he toppled backward, his head striking the ground.

UNIVERSITY OF TULSA NAMES FOOTBALL COACH
TULSA, Okla. (P) — Glenn Dobbs, who climbed from stand-out player to athletic director at the University of Tulsa, was appointed Wednesday to replace his brother as head football coach here.

Brother Bobby Dobbs resigned last week to coach the professional Calgary Stampeders in Canada's Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Tulsa President Dr. Ben Henneke said Dobbs' selection was unanimously approved by the university athletic committee of the board of trustees and the full membership of the board.

Emphasis Will Be On National League Entry

HOUSTON, Tex. (P) — Gabe Paul left no doubt Wednesday that emphasis will be on Houston's 1962 National League entry instead of building an American Association contender in 1961.

"We'll be shuffling players in and out of Houston on a wholesale basis this year," said the general manager of the Houston Sports Association (HSA), holder of a 1962 National League franchise.

"We'll be looking for the player who will help us in 1962," he said. The HSA cleared a major obstacle Tuesday night by obtaining Houston area baseball territorial rights by purchasing the Houston Buffs of the triple A American Association.

The Buffs will operate this year under a working agreement with the Chicago Cubs. Renewal of the Cubs agreement had been worked out prior to Wednesday night's action. The Buffs will train at Mesa, Ariz., with the Cubs.

Warm Weather Brings Thoughts Of Low Scores

Associated Press Sports Writer PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (P) — Warm, sunny weather on this Monterey Peninsula Wednesday brought predictions of low scoring in the $50,000 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament when Ken Venturi begins defense of his title Thursday.

Storms usually increase the difficulties in this 72-hole event played over three courses, but the weatherman says it will be clear at least through Saturday.

In this exciting golf test, long shots seldom come through as the winner so the pre-tourney favorites are such stars as Venturi, Arnold Palmer, Art Wall and Jay Hebert. All except Palmer have won here and Arnold, golfer-of-the-year in 1960, arrives after winning the past week's tournament at San Diego.

Palmer fired a warm-up 71, one under par, Tuesday on the seaside Cypress Point course.

In the pro-amateur division, Palmer pairs with Dick Groat, captain of the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball club, as the amateur field includes outstanding figures of entertainment, sports and business.

Wall draws another baseball notable, Manager Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants, as his partner. Venturi pairs with his pal Harvey Ward, former national amateur kingly.

The Crosby actually combines two tournaments in one—the pro-amateurs and individual pro. In the former, the amateur's handicap can help the team. Groat gets 9 strokes, Dark 6, and Ward 4.

The field of 300 plays each of the three courses—Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and Monterey Peninsula with 50 teams touring each course the first three days. Sunday's televised final will be over Pebble Beach.

PIRATES SHOULD BE BETTER IN '61

PITTSBURGH (P) — General Manager Joe L. Brown predicted Wednesday his 1960 world champion Pittsburgh Pirates should be even better in 1961.

"But we're not going to surprise any clubs," said Brown with tongue in cheek. "We'll have to give more than 100 per cent to repeat."

Brown was host at a mid-winter luncheon for sports writers and broadcasters. The guests included pitcher Roy Face, catcher Bill Mazeroski and second baseman Bill Mazeroski.

The trio of World Series heroes (Face saved three games and Smith and Mazeroski batted in the deciding game) looked trim and ready to play tomorrow.

Looking back over the 1960 season, Brown said the rest of the National League clubs had underestimated the Pirates and felt they would fold in the stretch drive.

"The reason we won last year, and there were a lot of reasons," recalled Brown, "is that our boys probably had the will to win more than any other club."

"PUTTER-OF-THE-YEAR"
CHICAGO (P) — Deane Randolph Beman, Washington, D. C., last year's U.S. amateur golf champion, Wednesday was named 1960's "putter-of-the-year" by the Golf Writers' Association of America.

Beman, 22, received 11 of the 17 votes cast by officers and directors of the writers' group. Arnold Palmer, U. S. Open and Masters champion, collected 4 votes, and pros Bill Casper and Bob Burg, each got 1 vote each.

Host Wildcats Run Into Greenfield In Curtain Raiser Tonight

Thursday's Card
Semifinals
7:00 Winchester vs. Greenfield
8:30 Griggsville vs. Bluffs
By STAN SPOTTS

WINCHESTER — Franklin and White Hall fell by the wayside here Wednesday night after putting up solid first-half performances in the 39th annual Winchester Invitational Tournament. Second-seeded Bluffs behind Burl Fargo and Lee Fredrick dealt Coach Bill Rendlemen's White Hall Maroons a 65-47 setback in the curtain raiser and Coach Charlie Pritchett's Tornadoes found running room in the second half to eliminate a game-bunch of Flashes in the second contest of the evening, 71-48.

Favored Winchester, undefeated in 14 starts, goes against Greenfield tonight at seven o'clock. The Wildcats defeated Greenfield in the finals of the Illinois Valley Conference tournament, 58-46. Bluffs, now 12-1 for the campaign, runs into Griggsville in the nightcap. The Tornadoes gave Bluffs quite a struggle before yielding, 65-58, in an earlier engagement.

Fourth Game
The fourth game of the annual affair saw White Hall jump off to a 6-0 lead due mainly to the control of Bluffs' offensive board. But the Bluejays crept back via the outshooting of Lee Fredrick, who scored eight in the period, and went ahead to stay for the remainder of the game when Fredrick swished one in from 15 feet with two minutes showing on the clock. The winners led by five after eight minutes of play, 15-10.

Twice in the second quarter the Maroons allied to within four points of the lead, 19-15, and 21-17, on two buckets by Larry DeSha. But Fargo began to connect and hit for 10 points to keep Bluffs on top, which varied from five to nine points but was cut to seven at halftime as Sam Campbell scored nine seconds before the buzzer sounded, 32-25.

White Hall was assured of its eighth loss in 12 starts in the third canto when Burl Fargo hit 12 straight points in a little over four minutes of play. Bluffs' fast break, working with perfection, kept the winners ahead by a comfortable margin the rest of the game.

Bluffs never led by more than 19 in three and a half quarters but it got over the hump with 3:17 left to play in the game when Gary Bangert sank two free throws for his only points of the game.

The winners controlled both boards and plucked off 38 to White Hall's 28 rebounds.

Good First Half
Franklin stayed on even terms with Griggsville for 16 minutes but the Tornadoes clicked with a fast break in the final 16 minutes of play to oust the Flashes, 71-48.

Coach Jim Bower's opening quintet, composed of two freshmen and three juniors, managed to knot the score three times in the initial period on two buckets by Frank Foster and one by Gary Bryant but Franklin never saw the lead. Griggsville's biggest margin in the opening eight minutes of play came with 2:58 remaining on a side tally by Corky Shelton, 14-8, but the Flashes narrowed the spread to two points, 14-14, at the end of the period.

The second chapter was a seesaw affair with the lead changing hands nine times while the score was tied only three times. Baker and Shelton led Griggsville's surge in the period while Jerry Allen and Danny Crow spearheaded Franklin's drive.

Corky Shelton, who captured game honors with 28 points, broke a 27-27 deadlock on a free throw with eight seconds left in the first half. Shelton's second attempt just missed but Craven put it up and in for a 30-27 halftime lead for the winners.

Before the third quarter was three minutes old, the Tornadoes had amassed a 10 point lead and gradually pulled away via a fast break and some mislead Franklin passes. The win was Griggsville's ninth against five defeats.

Franklin bowed out of the tourney with a two win, eight loss record. Jerry Allen and Frank Foster led Franklin scorers with 14 and 10 points respectively.

Pittsburgh Leaves N.B.A.

PITTSBURGH (P) — Pittsburgh pulled out of the National Basketball Association Wednesday after a stay of less than 24 hours.

In announcing the club's withdrawal, franchise owner John Harris said he was sure he could "find some other way to invest a quarter of a million dollars in something new without too many headaches."

The NBA just Tuesday night had announced that it would expand from 8 to 10 teams in the 1961-62 season with new clubs in Chicago and Pittsburgh. Harris had been awarded the Pittsburgh franchise.

The ice show impresario said he had decided to go into basketball only because he thought he had hired Bill Sharman as his coach. Sharman is a veteran basketball star of the league's Boston Celtics.

However, both Sharman and Celtic owner Walter Brown denied Harris' announcement that Sharman would be the Pittsburgh coach.

"I either jumped the gun or misunderstood Walter when I made the announcement," Harris said. "This mix-up on the Sharman deal convinces me that I know nothing about basketball or the NBA. That's why I'm pulling out."

Harris, who heads the Pittsburgh ice hockey club which returns to the American Hockey League next season, said he sent a telegram to NBA President Maurice Podoloff, informing him of Pittsburgh's withdrawal.

When informed in New York of Harris' action, Podoloff said he thought it was all the result of a misunderstanding.

"I think that after a cooling off period, we still may be able to reach an agreement between Mr. Harris and Mr. Brown," Podoloff said.

Eisenhower's Last Farewell With Full Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower is a most consistent man.

Even Wednesday in his final news conference, when he was in an exceptionally affable mood, he still couldn't forget that he's pined for Harry S. Truman.

A reporter asked how active a role Eisenhower would take in politics after he steps out of office at noon Friday. Would it be similar to the one played by Truman?

Eisenhower frowned and began, "Well, I won't make any comparisons."

Although the words sound innocent in print, and although at no time did he refer by name to the man he succeeded in the White House, his tone plainly showed that ex-President Eisenhower isn't going to take ex-President Truman as a model.

Normally political feuds are easily patched up. But this one, which began back in the 1952 campaign, apparently still stings.

Other than this, you couldn't have asked for a sunnier farewell from the Old Soldier.

Fittingly for the last news conference go-around, Eisenhower was accompanied by his whole press crew: James C. Hagerity, Anne W. Wheaton, Wayne Lewis and even Robert Montgomery, who has coached the President on how to face television cameras.

Newspapermen collectively fret a lot over what a President thinks of them, and several of the questions dealt with his relations with reporters. Eisenhower seemed amused that some of them felt maybe the questioning at times had been unkind.

"When you come down to it," he said, "I don't see how a reporter could do much to a president, do you?"

As usual on these occasions, there was a summing up of dreams accomplished and dreams shattered. Eisenhower, who talked peace so earnestly these past eight years, confessed that his chief disappointment was that he never found an answer, and said his chief accomplishment was that it could have been much worse.

Although Eisenhower naturally looks older than he did in 1953, and although he has had three serious illnesses, he looks in surprisingly good health.

Maybe we're going to have to revise that old saying about the presidency being a man-killing job. Where could you find, for their ages, a more frisky trio than Eisenhower, Truman and Herbert Hoover?

Republicans Make Plans To Bolster Party

CHICAGO (AP) — A group of Republican leaders Wednesday approved a plan to set up a citizens organization to strengthen the GOP in Illinois.

Forty Republican officials and rank-and-file voters approved, in principle, of the proposal to set up the new organization, they also asked Victor L. Smith, the party's state chairman, to appoint a committee to work out the details.

The plan is to form the Republican Citizens League of Illinois. It would parallel and help the regular party organization.

The league, among other things, would enroll volunteers to fill gaps in the ranks of precinct workers. Full-time research and publicity divisions would be put to work.

The plan was drafted after the Republican defeat in November by James C. Worthy, a vice president of Sears Roebuck & Co. and former president of the United Republican Fund.

Washington Population Swells For Inauguration Festivities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The town of the Democratic lease on the executive mansion eight years ago, and the 73-year-old Truman was utterly delighted that a Democrat will be moving back in Friday afternoon.

He beamed at welcome at Union Station, shook hands exuberantly and told everyone in earshot: "Whenever the Democrats are around, you're in good company."

Truman and Eisenhower have met only at funerals in the past eight years. Truman said he has no plans to meet with his successor on this visit to Washington.

A meeting with Eisenhower is about the only thing he will skip.

There was one other exception — the opening official event of the inaugural period. That was a reception at the National Gallery of Art Wednesday afternoon for distinguished ladies — wives of the incoming Cabinet and such.

In addition to dozens of private parties on the side, Thursday will bring a reception for governors, an inaugural concert featuring American composers and talent, and a gala show featuring stage and movie stars and Democratic party efforts to raise money to pay for the campaign debt.

All this is just a prelude to the solemn, impressive ceremony for the swearing in of the new president.

And, except for carpenters still pounding on a stately white stand in front of the White House, things are about as ready as they ever will be for the changeover in administrations. Security agents have even batted down all the manholes in the streets along the line of march of the inaugural parade.

But it looks like chills and goosebumps weather for some of the gorgeous girls who will be in the parade. Florida is going to have seven bathing beauties aboard an entry depicting the "Sunshine State."

The weather man, though, said it looks now as if there may be a bit of snow Thursday. And Friday will be cold and windy with the temperature around freezing.

Every train and plane poured in out-of-towners. Information booths at terminals, hotels and motels were mobbed with people wanting maps, or word on where to round up that ticket to the inaugural ball that should have arrived by mail. Reinforcements from as far as Chicago came to the assistance of firms renting evening apparel.

President Eisenhower held his last news conference and rolled through a heavy round of appointments. With less than 48 hours left for him at the White House, he had the air of a man who wasn't exactly unhappy at the idea of leaving it — only that a Democrat was moving in.

It was Harry Truman who gave the Democratic lease on the executive mansion eight years ago, and the 73-year-old Truman was utterly delighted that a Democrat will be moving back in Friday afternoon.

He beamed at welcome at Union Station, shook hands exuberantly and told everyone in earshot: "Whenever the Democrats are around, you're in good company."

Teamsters Win Pay Raises

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO (AP) — Teamster Union negotiators headed by James R. Hoffa reached an agreement Wednesday with Midwestern trucking firms for pay raises for 200,000 workers.

The increases of 28 and 32 cents an hour over a three-year period are expected to set a national pattern for an additional 200,000 drivers and dock hands in other sections of the country.

The agreement called for: Boosts of 28 cents an hour for over-the-road drivers in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Kentucky.

Hikes of 32 cents an hour for local drivers and other members in all of those states except Michigan, Ohio and Indiana. Hoffa said current pay is higher in those three states.

The raises in the 28-cent bracket will be in installments of 10 cents Feb. 1, 8 cents Feb. 1, 1962, and 10 cents Feb. 1, 1963.

The increases for those in the 32-cent class — Hoffa said they number 150,000 — will break down into 10 cents Feb. 1 and Feb. 1, 1962, and 12 cents Feb. 1, 1963.

Hoffa, president of the union, told newsmen the union received an over-all benefit package of 424 cents an hour. He did not go into full detail, but he stated that negotiators had agreed to:

- Increase weekly contributions to the union welfare fund by 50 cents the first year and 50 cents in the third year.
- Expand weekly contributions to the pension fund by $1 the first year and $1 the third year.
- Let the drivers themselves decide whether they want to cross picket lines of other unions.
- Increase the drivers' mileage rate by one-fourth of a cent a mile.
- Grant more vacation time.

Hoffa said minimum wages now average $2.66 an hour for over-the-road drivers and $2.67 for city drivers, and that dock workers make about 10 cents less per hour. The present mileage rate is 9.7 cents.

Employers now contribute $2.50 a week to the welfare fund and $4 a week for pensions.

Within the next three months, Hoffa said, a member 60 years old with 20 years of service will be able to retire on $200 a month. His pension would have been $135 under the old contract. The new plan is retroactive to Jan. 1 but, Hoffa said, it may take 90 days to put it into effect.

Members will vote Sunday or the Sunday thereafter on ratification.

The union won agreements in December covering 25,000 drivers in the Midwest and in January for 35,000 drivers in the Chicago area. Those contracts, arrived at in separate bargaining, were pegged to the 28-cent settlement.

In contract negotiations that began Nov. 10 the union had asked raises of 36 cents an hour.
